

Sapiens IntelligencePro for Property & Casualty

Easy and Effective BI

Business Intelligence Challenges

Property and casualty (P&C) providers are challenged more than ever to empower employees with actionable data to drive business performance and increase worker productivity. Insurers are trying to glean actionable insights from their voluminous data streams to formulate their companies' strategies, decide which new propositions to bring to market and obtain crucial market intelligence.

Without effective analytics, P&C insurers are reactive and cannot effectively prepare for new trends, costing them their competitive advantage. The challenge is how to incorporate all of their data streams into data-driven decision processes. With the countless sources of data available to aid in making well-informed daily decisions, there is a serious need for effective business intelligence (BI) solutions.

Business Benefits

IntelligencePro offers many benefits to P&C providers, including:

A Significant Reduction in Business Intelligence's Total Cost of Ownership

Sapiens' insurance data models, reports and dashboards, combined with a commercial, open-source BI platform (Pentaho) eliminate large, up-front software licensing costs that result in dramatic savings over alternatives (such as Oracle/Hyperion, SAP/Business Objects and IBM/Cognos).

Eliminating large software license fees is just the beginning. Our modern, standards-based architecture also reduces the complexity of integrating and maintaining traditional BI systems, lowering total cost of ownership (TCO) even further over the life of the application.

Sapiens IntelligencePro

Obtain Professional and Affordable Support

IntelligencePro comes with professional support, product maintenance, enhanced software and more. Not only do we eliminate software license fees, we provide support that typically costs less than one-third the annual maintenance fees charged by many other vendors.

Achieve BI Success

By providing an “off-the-shelf” property & casualty BI product for insurers, we enable companies to achieve BI success in minimal time. The product is designed to be extremely flexible and extendable, so that companies can expand it to include additional elements. IntelligencePro provides you with all of the tools to create and/or modify any part of the system.

Sapiens offers over 100 standard reports out-of-the-box, including a wide variety of standard reports designed for the property & casualty industry. Reports can easily be scheduled, emailed, exported and modified.

Many Key Performance Indicators (KPIs) specific to the property & casualty industry, as well as to the management and operation of an enterprise solution, are included. View KPIs by day, week, month, quarter, year, year-to-date, inception-to-date, last three months, last quarter, last 12 months, plus many, many more...and compare all of them against prior periods.
